There is Another Side of Grief
Where the tears still flow
Not as often
Where memories bring smiles
Not just sadness
Where blessings are recognized
Not just struggles
Where joy and peace are present
Not just sorrow
Where you are remembered
Not just Mourned

Mary Lou Briggs Dodson As I drove, by myself to my daughters, in another state, the tears just flow. We loved going, and visiting our daughters, and his sisters. It's been 2 years, wow, hard to believe! Still cry everyday, but, I smile a lot more, remembering almost 41 years together, lots and lots of blessings we had! Still miss a part of my heart.

~MY ANCESTOR~
Mary Foster came from England to America in 1638 when she was about 20 yrs. old with her parnets, REGINALD & JUDITH FOSTER, five brothers and a sister. The family settled in Ipswich in Mass. Bay Colony.

According to "Foster Genealogy: being the record of the posterity of Reginald Foster, an early inhabitant of Ipswich in New England....", by Frederick Clifton Pierce, p. 121, Mary Foster married first Daniel Wood and second Francis Peabody. [Daniel Wood's estate was settled in 1648 and Mary Wood was the executrix of his estate & was to bring up the children]. If this is the same Mary, she had children from her first marriage. Yet, according to the same book, Francis & Mary Foster had fourteen children beginning with John who was born in 1642 ending with Nathaniel who was born in 1669. If this is true, she would have married Francis Peabody prior to 1642 and could not have married Daniel Wood.

The above book also gives her death date as April 9, 1705.

Hi

Guess what? I think I have I have you all caught up on all the things I needed to send to you. If you can think of something I've missed it's up to you to remember what it is cause I've lost my mind completely + think I've done a wonderful job (so far)! Ha-Ha

Bill had a wonderful birthday yesterday. Dayo thank you for the card. He liked it.

Carrie + Ramon got moved yesterday to the base. Andrea had a ball getting into everything. Someone put a box on the floor of her bedroom with all her clothes in it. Yup - she unpacked it for them. Carrie said she wasn't neat about it either.

Lori went to get Tyler dressed yesterday morning + couldn't find any clothes in two of his drawers. They were completely empty. She asked Tyler what happened to all his clothes + he took her to his clothes hamper, opened it, it was full of all his clothes + told her smugly "dirty!" He wanted her to wash them all again. I thought that one was really funny. Had a great laugh.

Have got to go. On way to the bank + the post office + I'm taking this with me. Hadn't plan to write a letter this time anyhow. Take care.

Love ya
Maryalice

Hello everyone

Bennie, remember when we used to get on Willie's case about being so slow to answer our round robin letters. Well, I suppose its time to start getting on my case. Where does my time go to? That was a dumb question! I know exactly where it all goes to. You all just don't know. But to give you a clue I'll tell you a thing or two. Now don't you feel like special people? Well, you all are.

I'll start with Easter. In the afternoon all three of the girls and their little ones came over for a egg hunt in the back yard. We broke kids down into two groups. Brandy and Ryan in one&the the three littler ones in another. Brandy and Ryan hid the eggs for the little ones. That was a easy job. They had to put them in plain sight so the mommies could point the eggs out and let the little ones be talked into picking them up and putting them into their baskets. We all laughed so hard cause they really had to be talked into picking them up. Carrie was laughing so hard that she only picked up about 4 for Andrea's basket so that left about 20 for Tyler and Sierra to pick up. And in the middle of all this was grandma taking pictures. Towards the end Tyler and Sierra finally got the concept of what was going on and really got into picking the eggs up untill Tyler decided he wanted to know what was inside those plastic eggs making a rad-dling noise. When he found out that was the end of the egg hunt for him. He went straight to Al for him to open them up so he could eat the candy inside. Sierra ate a piece or two of candy but she wanted to play with the plastic eggs. But we had to take them away from her so we could refill them up with more candy for Brandy and Ryan to look for. Robin and Lori hid thei eggs for them. And boy did they do a good job. That kept the kids looking for quite awhile. They found all but one and it was two weeks later when it was found by Tyler who spent about an hour in the back yard throwing it at every thing he could find so he could get it open to get that candy out that he knew was in there.. But when he finally got it broke open Mommie was right there to grab it up and throw it away. He didn't care he contin-ued to have fun with that one egg. I knew kids enjoyed the strangest thing but for that long? Forgot to say that of course we were showering for dinner after the egg hunt.

Then my birthday came. Thank you for the beautiful cards. I loved them. Everyone came over for ice cream and cake bearing cards and gifts. We had a real fun afternoon..

In the middle of May I now started working every Monday. The lady that has the cleaning crew that I sub for called and asked if I would be interested in working one day a week to pick up on jobs that the first crew can't get done plus one regular lady a week. So I said yes and now her and I and two more ladyies work each monday. We do at least two houses but most times it three or four houses that day. Now that summer is here it will slow down maybe. The economy must be picking up cause she is having all her old customers calling to start up their houses again. They had quit because of the economy. This pass monday we didn't work cause it was a holiday. But the week before I had worked my regular monday then filled in for on the first crew for one lady all the rest of week while she went to California. That made for a long week. Sure glad it is over with.

May 8th was Mothers Day and Robin's birthday. Gary was at the Fire station so Robin baked a cake and I made taco's and bean burro's. We let Kyle and Lori, Al & Tyler join us. Craig of course was at work as usual. And of course Carrie, Andrea and Bill was already here. So we all stuffed ourselves silly, but it sure was good. We had another fun afternoon and early evening.

In the meantime our two years was up in April. Remember when we moved down here we said that the house we were moving in we would be in for 2 days, 2 weeks, 2 months or 2 years. Well 2 years came and went and we decided it was time to do something. We knew Jim wanted to sell the house or something. We also had to put up with him not making his house payments until the mood hit so we had to put up with his mortgage companies telephone calls and correspondance. Plus visits from the company wanting to find him. We had been told not to give out his telephone number or address to anyone. We still haven't figured out all the secrecy but we did as he asked as he was doing us a favor for letting us live there so cheap. At one point he didn't pay his house payment for 6 months and the house was going on the auction block. But at the last moment Jim paid everything current. At another point while he was in town he came over and asked if we would like to buy the house where we would take over his payments and give him a thousand or two. He said as soon as he went back to California he would send us the paper work and the house was ours. Well thet was 1½ years ago and he never sent the paperwork. So we assumed he changed his mind. Anyway we decided it was time to get busy and find someplace else to live at. Anyway Rick's parents had died 2 years ago and Rick had been renting their house to another fireman friend of his. Well Brady moved out and the house was vacant. Its a older house (built in 1952 or 53). Small rooms but very sturdy. Has a living room, kitchen, dining area, 1 bathroom & 3 bedrooms, & a 1 car covered carport where the washer and dryer is. No dish washer or garbage disposer. But it had a new 2 year old air conditione and a a new 1 year old roof. Plus Rick put in new carpet throughout the house and new tile in the kitchen, dining room and bathroom. Plus Brady had painted the bedrooms, hall and livingroom when he had moved in. Rick painted the kitchen and his sister Mary painted the bathroom. This is the cutest little house. Plus so clean. I love it, and call it my little crackerbox. So on May 14th&15th we moved everything in.

On saturday the 14th Robin and Gary helped me move the bookcases and filing cabinets over and we put all the geneology, photo albums and books in them in a spare bedroom. We had to prod Gary on every once in a while cause he kept taking time out to go down memory lane and look at all the photos. He loves to look thru all my albums & gets completely lost in all these memories thru time with our family. He is a very sementily person believe it or not. ^that should be spell

Then on sunday the 15th every thing else "sentimental" was moved over here. That is to say two complete households was moved from the bigger house into the littler house. And the bigger house was packed in to begin with. So this was no easy task. One household was mine and Bill's and the other was Carrie and Ramon's. Kyle had put all of his stuff in storage except for a laundry basket, a suitcase, his small safe, computor VCR and TV set. Oh yeah he walked in at the end and asked where could he put his laundry soap. We all had a good laugh at that time cause there was absoulty no place to set it down. I had filled in at work on thursday and friday before we moved in on sat. and sun. Then on monday I had go work again. So by tuesday I was completely exhausted and did not have a clue where to begin. But I did and somehow it doesn't look bad in here at this point.

On the friday night before the move Ramon came home for a 10 day leave of R&R. Some R&R. He was put to work immediately moving. But he was a good guy and worked along with Al, Kyle, John (who is one of Bill's workers who wanted to help too). Craig lucked out this time. Instead of missing a meal he missed having to do all that work. He naturally had to go to his regular job.. Carrie and Ramon Had to make 3 trips to Luke Air Force Base on the other side of Phoenix the week after the move. I either watched Andrea or let them take my car so they could use the refrigeration. Their car has no refrigeration and it was getting to hot to take that baby every place with them. Then the following weekend Robin and Gary had company come in from out of town and they wanted to spend the weekend on their boat with their company. So Sierra stayed with us here in all our mess. We were at this point unpacking all of Carrie's stuff so the military could come inand see what they had so they could come back, pack and ship to New Mexico. Sierra was so good. She just walking over stuff. In the meantime Ramon was putting a trailer together that Kyle is going to sale and they will spli the returns. Also Ramon put together this big entertainment center for Bill and I. Bill hates to do that kind of thing and if he can get out of it he will and he did. Ramon loves to do that kind of thing so everything worked out just fine.

Then the next week was the week I worked all week. Carrie and Ramon left on tuesday of that week. I wasn't here to see them off when they left and I really miss that. But Bill came in about an hour before they were to leave cause he remembered we had a CB radio and wanted to give it to the kids. With their old car he wanted them to have some way to get some kind of help if they needed it. They didn't need it as that old car just travel real well and Ramon knows how to fix it. He reminds me of daddy where he can take a clothes hanger and almost fix anything. But the kids enjoyed their trip to New Mexico listening to the truckers talk to one another all along the way. Carrie said at a couple of times their language got a little on the not nice side and Ramon would change channels. Carrie could hear but he didn't want Andrea to hear it. The first night they only went up to Holbrook, Arizona and spent the night and the next day they went on to Alburquerque to the base where they stayed at the Kirkland Inn until they got their apartment where they are now. Their furniture won"t be delivered until June 7th (tomorrow). Because of the military they had to make this a 2 day trip. You can only travel so many miles per day so you won't be over tired. And they missed the limit by about 30 or 40 miles. But they had fun in Holbrook. They got there early enough that they went swimming in the motel pool with each taking turns keeping an eye on Andrea while the other was in they pool. Then they went out to dinner. We got a postcard from them from there. And then another postcard from Alburguerque when they got there. Plus a few telephone calls collect. The last time I talked to Carrie she said Andrea is not crawling but scooting backwards at 50 miles per hour. She also can pull up to something to her knees. But that was a week ago so who knows what she is doing already. We sure miss them.

Last tuesday was the day the moving company came and packed everything & loaded it on the truck. Boy we have plenty of room now.. BUT guess what, We might move again. Thats right you read that right! This is how it goes. When Rick first said that this little house was vacant he also said that the lady living in his and Jeanne's old house might move up to northern Arizona. So he went and talked to her and she said she had changed her mind and was staying in Mesa. So he asked her if she would considered moving into this house since it was smaller and she didn't need that bigger house. Plus he told her the rent was cheaper (she is having a hard time paying her rent). Well she said absoultely NO! She would not move into a smaller house. Rick says she uses only 2 of the bedrooms, 1 bathroom and the family room and kitchen. That leaves 2 more bedrooms, 1 bathroom and the living room with nothing int them. She leaves doors closed. So we just moved into here. Besides we really like this place. The only drawback we have is the fenced in back yard. It is located off of the carport to the side of the house. You go out the back door onto the carport and then between the house and a storage room at the end you open this old solid wooden gate and go into the back (side) yard. When the kids go out to play someone has to stay with them at all times. At the other house there is sliding glass doors that lead out to the back yard from the family room into a fenced back yard. Adults can keep a good watchful eye on the little ones while still staying in the family room. Plus the patio is covered the whole length of the back of the house like Jim's was. Is very nice. Of course the house is much bigger. Has 4 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms living room, dining area, family room and kitchen. No gargage disposer but a mini dishwasher. Have you ever seen one of those. That is the main thing I want to see. Jeanne says it does half the amount of dishes that a regular dishwasher does and is more cost efficent. I'm very curious about this. Anyway the lady that would not move last month is now moving. Her niece bought a townhouse across the street from where this lady works and she is going to rent it to her real cheap. Plus her car died on her and this way all she has to do is walk across the street to go to work and she can now get along without a car. So that is why we MIGHT move again. We will go look at the other house after the lady moves out and then decide if we want to go to all that work all over again or not. We can get along with out all that room really. In fact we have nothing to put in the livingroom either. So next round robin I may have a new address again. Will let you know of course.

Must tell on Sierra. Today I have been babysitting with her. Robin and Gary went out to the boat and Brandy and Ryan spent the day with their other grandparents. This was after her nap time and just her and I were here. Bill had left the TV on when he left. But I had given her bottle with juice in it and was in what I call my office typing away on this letter Sierra had all kinds of toys in here and kept playing with them while she drank her juice but she kept running back and forth to the livingroom. Well one time she didn't come back like usual so I went to check on her. She was sitting on the floor leaning back against the couch with one leg thrown over a pillow, drinking her juice and watching a John Wayne movie. She looked so comfortable I just left her there thinking she would join me back in the office. For 30 minutes I had to keep getting up and go check on her. She did not move from that spot. She was thoroughly enjoying old John. No lie that baby was watching a John Wayne movie "Wings of Eagles". And she acted like she knew what it was all about. I couldn't believe it. Robin didn't believe me either when I told her. She said she knew Sierra very well and she knew she would not sit that still for that long. Robin says I didn't watch the clock close enough. But I was here and I know exactly how long she sat there watching that movie. The whole(my typewriter acted up here and by the time I got it fixed I forgot what I was going to say. Yes it looks like I may be the youngest but I must be the first to lose her mind. Or did I lose it a long time ago? Never mind answering that I already know what you all are thinking or saying)

Its now 10:00 o'clock so I'm quitting for tonight. I'm going to the postoffice tomorrow and want to mail this then. I'm sure I have more news but at this point I won't bore you anymore with my rattling on about nothing. I know earlier I had things I wanted to answer about your letters but I can't remember what they were. So goodnight.

Bye for now. Take care and loads of love to everyone.

Love Janalee

Hello again. Quess who went to the post office and forgot to take your letter along to mail! See what I mean about losing it. I would forget my head if it wasn't already attached. Thank goodness it is. Also thank goodness I had something to mail or I would of looked very silly standing in line for no reason. I had a bunch of stuff to mail to Carrie. So at least she will get her mail when I said she would, even if you all don't.

Went to Robin's today. We spent the day making spagetti and meatballs. Now I quess you would like to know why. Sure hope so cause I am going to tell you anyway. One of Robin's best friends lives across the cul-de-sac from her and is a morman who does a lot of these morman things. (I know that doesn't sound nice the way I said it but I really don't mean any desrespect but I don't know how else to say it) Anyway Memory (that's her friend name) with 3 other families that live in a 1 block area exchange family meals. Each wife of each family makes a evening meal one night. They each take turns, to where each wife makes only one meal in 4. Then the next 3 nights each family is on its own. Anyway Memory and her family went on vacation to Kansas for 2 weeks so she asked Robin if she would like to sub for her while she was gone and Robin said sure knowing she would have a ulcer by the time this was over with. Anyway Robin started this week of meals off Like I said we made spagetti and meatballs, tossed salad and garlic bread. It turned into quite a time consuming thing. We had a interruption here and there but it went fairly well and the meals were delivered on time. We started at 11 this morning, took time out for lunch and a break for about 30 minutes about 3:30 . Sure hope everyone liked their meal cause Robin had the biggest stomach ache when it was all over with. But she says it will be worth it cause now she has meals delivered to her for the next 3 nights. And these are not small families. One family has 9 members, another 7 and another 5. I'm sure you can imagine how many meatballs were made! Ha-Ha.

Well I'm closing for tonight as Northern Exposure is coming on and I want to go watch it even though it is a rerun. I like this show lots. Night

Well, Well, Well, Well & Well! Looks who's back. Is the nut typing this ever going to put this in an envelope and mail it? Now that is a big question. At 8 this morning Al Dropped Lori and Tyler off here and he went to work. We fed Tyler breadfast, I did a load of laundry & my hair and then we went to Phoenix to the store. It had been a real long time since I had been there so they wanted me to come over and look at the new things on displa So we went to see. Al has put in a nice line on barbecue grills and assessories and is doing well selling these along with the stoves. The store looked completely different from the last time I was there. And yes I took my camera to take pictures too. Hope they turn out good. Then home to fee Tyler as he was starving and then a couple of small errands before taking Lori and Tyler home. We had a fun morning. Got home in time for Carrie to call (and not collect). She gave me her new telephone number so though I would pass it on to you. It is area code 505 with the number 299-9096.

Carrie said Andrea is still not crawling yet, but gets around easy enough by rolling one way or the other or scooting everywhich way. She goes backwards, forwards or side ways. Also she talks a lot saying mama, dada and something that sounds like baw-baw. They think she might be saying bottle but they won't swear to it. The movers arrived with their furniture yesterday. and it turned out to be the same guy who was here packing and loading it into his truck. Originally it was suppose to go there into storage in New Mexico and then the military was to pick it up and deliver it and unpac it all and put it away. But because the military did not have a telephone number and could not call first the truck driver was given their address an he delivered it. So it was unloaded into their apartment. Carrie told him where to basically put the furniture and boxes but of course he did not unpack anything. This driver had his 15 year old nephew with him who Carrie said really worked hard. Luckily Ramon was home for lunch. He has a 2½ lunch break every day so he was able to help a lot unload too. Don't sound to me like the military is on top of things if this the way they handle a simple move. Oh well all's well in the end and Carrie has everything she needs with her now.

Willie, did I tell you I went to see Delores Gursky last saturday.
Remember when I talked to you a few weeks back and said she had come back home from the hospital, was not feeling good but happy to be home again.
Well the next day after she had called me she had gone back into the hospital again for 6 days. On the 6th day I finally got hold of Earl and he tol me she was back in the hospital. But I was able to find out what hospital, room number, etc. and told him I would go see her in a day or two. That was on Thursday night and I didn't get to go on friday as I had workde.
But that night Earl called and said she was back home. I told him I had planned to go see her on the next day and he said for me to come to their house as she would love it. Well, I hesitated, he said just a minute and put Delores on. She said pleaseeeeeeee come to see me, do I did, the very next day. That morning I thought to myself that I should take her something to her to say hurry and get well. So I ran around the block to Osco Drug Store & looked around. Couldn't find anything I liked so bought 2 cards and headed out Main Street towards Apache Junction, saw the Old Ameri Store and pulled into there. This store is the neatest place. I just love it. It sells odd dishes, vases, does framing, has wicker furniture, arts & crafts & does flower arrangements along with a few other things. So I went in and got a wicker basket, a green plant and some weeds and something else I can't give a name to, and a yard of ribbon. Had planned to go sit in the car and put an arrangement together to take to her. But I sat down in that hot hot car and said no way am I sitting here. I went to her house with all my odds and ends and told her what I was going to do. We sit down at her table and we both put together this arrangement. We had a ball. She got sentimental on me and started to cry. Said this would be one of her best memories she will always treasure. By the time I left she was feeling really good. This was the 2nd day on this new medicine and she was respond ing real well to it. She called up her mother and dad (they live in the same RV resort) and they came down for coffee and rolls too. Dad went back home after awhile and left mother with us. I said I would take her home for him. When it was time to take her home Delores decided she wanted to go to and I was to go and see their trailer and the Arizona room that Dad had built on it by himself. And this man is 84 years old still doing carpentry work.. Then I had to take Delores back to her trailer. They have a nice trailer with an Arizona room added on to it too. Of course they have real nice furniture, etc. so it is really pretty and nice. Delri is flying in tomorrow for a visit with them for a few days. Delores wants to bring Delri and come see my little house while she is here. So maybe they just might do that. I have to work this friday again so then again maybe that won't happen. Who knows! I don"t!

Oh yeah I finally asked Kyle what the name of the movie was he was an extra in. He said at this point the name of it was Terminal Velocity with Charlie Sheen. He had no idea when it was going to be shown in the theatres Quess we just have to watch for it.

Willie, the night you ~~saw~~ SAW the Irish dancing on "Murder She Wrote". Well the dancers you saw were dancers from the school that Brandy goes to. Aren't they wonderful. I really enjoy watching them. Of course the adults are definitely much better that the children as they have had years and yea of training. The lady who teaches from this school was born and raised in Ireland. She is a very sweet person and has lots and lots of patience. She had schools in Califoria and Arizona and she flys back and forth every week for all the practices. I still did not get to see this particalar show. Brandy always tells me always when it has been on but only the next day afterwards. I have a coupon to get a free picture taken so I'm going to get Brandy's taken in her dress. Another new dress is being made for her but it won't be ready in time to get her picture taken in. She has literally outgrown her old dress but I have to use this coupon by the end of the month so I can't wait anylonger. There is real big fesh being held in New York, I think in August. So for Brandy's birthday present Robin and Gary are giving her a trip to New York so she can be in this fesh, She will go with her best friend Laura and her mom and dad. Brandy is really looking forward to this. I would to if I was in her shoes.

Craig moved over Memorial weekend. But I keep forgetting his new address. He was here this morning and I still forgot to get it. But I wil and will send it on as soon as I get it.

The article on earthquakes was very interesting. I had read that before. Sure makes you wonder when is the big one going to hit and where!

Oh Bennie I loved what you did about not going to the bank for change before the bake sale. I laughed and laughed. It made my day in fact. For once it wasn't me doing the silly thing. Keep up the good work girl. Ha-Ha Bennie & Cliff had to give up their square dancing and Robin & Gary hac to give up their country line dancing. Robin said they could not decide yo had the worst rhymn. Robin or Gary!Or was it whohad the worst left foot that got in the way of the right foot? Or was it they turned right when every one else was turning left? Robin said that they were just both NO GOOD!

Bennie, Gayle did send me copies of Jason's newspaper clippings. He is good, huh? Very good. I will get a thank you note or letter off to her real soon as her effort was very much appreciated. Yes Willie I will get copies off to you real soon. In fact I think I've made the copies I just haven't sent them as yet.

Bennie I was just reading your round robin letter and saw that you are leaving for San Diego on June 9th. Being as it is now June 7th and tomorrow June 8th I decided to mail this to Gayle's. You can read this to her and tell her I will wait about oh 6 weeks or so and then will write to ~~your~~ HER with maybe some new news. But in the meantime thank you Gayle for sending the copies. As I said before it was very much appreciated.

I'm quitting right now. This book has gone on long enough. I start out to just write a little and then I go on and on and on LIKE NOW!

Write soon, take care and congraduations to the high school graduate. May you have a great life. Love and best wishes to everyone.

Dear Maryalice,Bill & ALL the Family,

It was so nice getting your letter that I thought I would chat a few minutes this morning Since Bradley is still in bed.Don't know if I will get it finished or not but anyway will try.

Talked to Mike Sunday.All their family will be there this week.George ,Lana and the girls suppose to have gotten there Monday.They have been to several places in Europe.George in case you may have forgotten is Lorie's oldest son by her first marriage.George works in Hong Kong and has for some time.He is working on putting in a lot of TV stations over there.A very good job.They really do like it there.

Michael and Karen,Jake & Kristina suppose to be there today.....ii know they will all enjoy being there and being togethr.They all get along so well together,and look forward to getting to. see each other.This is the first time in a long time they will all be together so Mike was real excited Sunday that they have this chance.

You are right it has been hot.This week a little cooler but the humid is so---high that it hasn't helped much.I just don't get out if I can help it.I usually take a short walk each morning but was lazy and didn't get it in except to go mail some letters.Will have to get yours mailed when we go get the mail.It was 86/108 but they figured with the humid and dew point that the humid was really 122.I don't know how they figure it but that it is bad.

Bill glad you have desided not to work Sundays.We found that when we had the shop we did maybe better if we didn't open it on Sundays.It took awhile before we got people trained but it sure did work out better for us and we felt that God did Bless us for making the effort.

Maryalice sounds like you have a good job.Pay not bad either sounds like.The ladies that I have come in once in awhile does the house just so much.Havn't had them for quite a while.

Sounds like everyone is very busy.Glad you got out for a change Maryalice everyone needs that once in awhile.I don't do it anymore but use to and enjoyed it very much.

You will be moving soon so know you will be busy.Sounds like this place will be so much better with more room.

Nothing wrong with you envelope it got the letter here just fine.

Bradley is still in bed and I have run out of chatter so think I'll walk up and mail this now.

We send our Love to YOU ALL,

Bradley & Jessie

Mark, wow! What a pedigree. It's posted.

Rhonda, your pedigree is also posted. Ironically, I was in Lubbock when you posted it. (I did a talk on the Barton House at the Ranching Heritage Center)

I hope that you both decide to participate in the Briscoe DNA Project. If you do, we have a sponsorship that makes the 25 marker test $20 less than what you'll see on the order sheet and the 37 marker test is $30 less. I'll have to get the adjustment made manually, so select "invoice".

All the best, Terry Barton

Mary Foster

Walter Davis asserts that she was first married to Daniel Wood of Ipswich, who died before 1649 Mar 27, when his wife Mary was named administratrix and two children were mentioned in the care of the widow. The evidence that this widow mary was Mary Foster is two-fold: (a) in 1679, Hepsibah (Peabody) Rea called Judith (Wood) Dorman sister, and (b) the will of Francis Peabody in 1696 called Daniel Wood his son-in-law and gave him land in consideration of an obligation for when Wood came of age. [Walter G. Davis, "Massachusetts and Maine Families in the Ancestry of Walter Goodwin Davis," published 1996 in Baltimore, MD by Genealogical Publishing Co.] Item (a) is in a court deposition in the county court files. ["Records and files of the quarterly courts of Essex County, Mass," pub. 1911 in Salem, MA by Essex Institute

There is slim evidence that she was the mother of the Peabody children. The town birth records mention only the father, but the county court records of the birth of the last child, Nathaniel, do show the mother as Marie.143

Bush and Aides Attend Funeral For His Mother

By CONSTANCE L. HAYS.

Returning to the town where he spent his childhood, President Bush led more than 100 mourners who gathered here today for the funeral of his mother, Dorothy Walker Bush, who died Thursday at the age of 91.

The President, who had arrived in a long motorcade from Westchester County Airport, briefly shed the trappings of office as the 45-minute Episcopal service ended. He stepped outside Christ Church, where his mother had been a member for more than 40 years, and remained there for about 20 minutes, embracing friends and family members and, at one point, raising his hands to acknowledge a smattering of applause from onlookers across the street.

Several of his top aides, most of them longtime friends, attended the funeral as well. They included James A. Baker 3d, the chief of staff, Treasury Secretary Nicholas F. Brady and Vice President Dan Quayle. The President's wife, Barbara, and their four sons and daughter, who is named for her grandmother, were present, as were Mr. Bush's brothers, Prescott Jr., Jonathan and William, and his sister, Nancy Ellis. Letter on Faith

The service was led by three celebrants, including the retired 23d Presiding Bishop and Primate of the Episcopal Church of the United States, the Most Rev. John M. Allin. Bishop Allin is also the rector at the Church of St. Ann in Kennebunkport, Me., where Dorothy Walker and Prescott Bush were married in 1921 and where the President and his family attend services when at their summer house.

Bush and Aides Attend Funeral For His Mother

Two organists provided music, and Prescott Bush Jr. read a letter that his mother had written, said Kelsey Bush Nadeau, one of Prescott Bush's daughters. In the letter Mrs. Bush discussed her faith and how it had sustained her, other mourners said.

After a luncheon at his mother's house here, the President and other family members drove to Putnam Cemetery for a brief graveside service. As the sun shone amid springlike temperatures, Mrs. Bush's ashes were interred next to the grave of her husband, a former Senator from Connecticut who died in 1972. Next to their markers is a small white marble stone in memory of George and Barbara Bush's daughter, Pauline Robinson Bush, who died from leukemia in 1953 when she was 3 years old.

After the services, which were closed to reporters, the President returned to Washington aboard an Air Force jet.

Dorothy Bush, a native of Maine, was remembered by people here as a woman of athletic talent and grace. Some of the mourners were her bridge and tennis partners, and one person recalled that until a few years ago Mrs. Bush insisted on pedaling her bicycle along back roads near her house. She was also active in many charities, and one of them, the American Red Cross, flew its flags at half-staff today in her honor.

22. Maria Efland (Peter , Johann David , Johannes , Bernhard) was born in 1745 in Hunterdon County, New Jersey. She died in 1834 in Corryton, Knox County, Tennessee. She was buried in Old Cemetery, Corryton, Tennessee.
Maria married Johann Nickel Gibbs about 1764 in Chowan County, Md. Johann was born on 29 Sep 1733 in Wallruth, Krumback, Baden, Germany. He died in 1817 in near Harbison's Crossroads, near Knoxville, Knox County, Tennessee. He was buried in Old Cemetery, Corryton, Tennessee.
"Nicholas Gibbs and His Descendants" by the NicholasGibbs Historical Society: The grandfather of Nicholas Gibbs left England because of religiousand political reasons to save his head when his King, Charles I, lost hisin 1649. He married a woman in Amsterdam and never went back to London,but sought refuge along the Rhine River in Germany, and it was in theVillage of Wallruth, near the town of Krumbach, Duchy of Baden, thatNicholas was born September 29, 1733. In the original Gibbs family there were three brothers, Peter,Abraham, and Nicholas, and two sisters, Mary and Catherine. Abraham andNicholas came from Germany to America, Nicholas coming to America in 1747and Abraham sometime prior to that time. Peter died in Germany beforeNicholas left for America. Abraham settled in the town of Fredericktown,Maryland and his descendants were residents of Baltimore, Maryland, in1846. Nicholas, named for his father, became offended with his father insome way and left home for America at age of 14 (1747). He left homewith 30 guineas ($150.00 in American money), which the captain of theship told him was just half enough to pay for his fare across the ocean,so Nicholas sold his time to pay for the other half. After working histime out for the other half of his fare, he joined the English army andserved five years in the French and Indian Wars. While he was a soldierhis brother, Abraham, heard of him and sought an appointment with him.Nicholas had no recollections of ever having seen his brother, so heapplied the criterion his mother had given him by which to idenityAbraham. should ever they meet, which was a spot or scar on Abraham'shead. Finding the spot on Abraham's head, he at once claimed him as hisbrother. After serving his tour of five years, Nicholas went toFrederickstown, Maryland, to live with his brother, Abraham. However,his brother's wife and he did not harmonize, so Nicholas went to NorthCarolina and settled in Orange County, where he married Miss MaryEphland, and where part of his family was grown and some married beforehe came to East Tennessee to settle 12 miles northeast of Knoxville,Tennessee, near House Mountain."

For looking further back in the history of theGibbs family than HermanGibbs I start from the following quotations.
<Gibbs was born in the Duchy of Baden, German, on September 29, 1733. It is claimed thathe saw service in the French and Indian War and during the American Revolution as an official of Orange County, North Carolina, under the Continental Government. The Gibbs family had once been courtiers at the royal court when theStuart dynasty held power in England and held great estates there. Gen. G. W. Gibbs, a son of Nicholas, in a letter to the first William Gibbs McAdoo, in 1846, stated that his family left England to save their heads at the time their king lost his, and from this bit of information, we believe that the Gibbs family migrated to Germany when Cromwell came to power and caused King Charles I to be executed. >>
A family letter written to May Powers on January 28, 1949 by W. H. Thomas states: << . . . that the Gibbs were originally Scottish that left England,
"They were Scotch, came to England with the Stuart Kings, were Royalists and left to save their heads when Cromwell cut off the head of their King, Charles I. The family evidently possessed wealth and power under the Stuart dynasty.">>
If they indeed made the transition fromEngland to Germany, it might be useful to try to build up a picture of the family in England-Scotland. In this way we might hope to learn when they made the transition and what the names of the people were who were likely to have left England at this time. Since they served the Stuart family, it is useful to review
the royal history of this period.
Mary, Queen of Scots, was the sister of the ruling queen of England at the time we begin.
She knew, since Elisabeth had no heirs, that any son of hers would have a strong claim on the title of King of England. The other strong claim would be by Darnely Stuart. To eliminate this problem and strengthen her claim, she married him and bore his son, James.
When James was one year old she was taken to England, acaptive, by her sister. She never saw her son again and was later beheadedwith the tacit approval of Elizabeth. However, her ploy worked, for when Elizabeth died she designated James as her successor. He was already James VI of Scotland and had been since his mother left him. He took at the death of Elisabeth (in 1603) the additional title of James I of England and was thefirst of the Stuart Line.
James was born in 1566 (so was 37 at the time) and had a family.
His wife was Anne of Denmark.
They had several children. The first was Henry and would have been King after James but he died at the age of 18.
The second was Elizabeth (later known as "The Winter Queen").
She may play an important role in the (our) family history. She married Fredrick V of the Platinate. In 1618 the Thirty Year's War began in Europe and the Platinate was involved in much of it. She had three children of note:
1) Charles Louis. He was to become Charles I of the Platinate at the signing of the treaty of Westphalia in 1648 which brought peace to the Platinate and its control back to the family.
Fredrick V had died in 1632
2) Rupert (known as Prince Rupert). His is a very famous name in Canada since he founded the Hudson Bay Company. He was his uncle's (Charles I of England see next James child) principal general in the English civil war.
3) Sophia. The present Queen of England, Elisabeth II decends from her.
The third child of James and Anne was Charles and he became

Charles I of England. He had a great deal of trouble with Parlement and fought the English Civil War with a group from the Parlement led by Oliver Cromwell. We need to follow to his story closely since it is at his defeat that ourancesto

Frederick Evangelical Lutheran Church - the cemetery is located behind this church. You can walk beside the church on the "right side", back behind and the stones will be found to the "left" against the stone wall. There are 29 gravestones total that we could find. (although one of them could not be photographed due to construction) Luckily could photograph the balance, but some pictures could have been better if not for the current construction going on. All transcriptions and photographs were taken August 17, 2007. (if readable)

I hope it isn't presumptuous to contact you to ask a favor.

I am working on a project to properly identify memorials of American Revolution soldiers, specifically, memorials of those Heroes who fought at King's Mountain, the turning point of the American Revolution.

Nicholas Gibbs, DAR Ancestor Number A044667, fought at the Battle of King's Mountain.

Would you consider extending your bio to include this information?
